Raleigh, N.C. - Governor Pat McCrory issued a statement following the unanimous ruling by a three-judge panel which upheld the Governor's challenge involving the use of commissions to perform regulatory responsibilities assigned to the Executive Branch.

"This historic and unanimous ruling respects and restores the separation of powers," said Governor McCrory. "I'm proud to stand up for our Constitution and the citizens of North Carolina. I'd like to thank former Governors Jim Martin and Jim Hunt for joining me in this effort to protect the principles of our state."

The administration is still reviewing all the ramifications of the court ruling, which is available here
